Each student is required to prepare and present a formal seminar, based upon extensive research work and literature surveys, in areas related to their current research. A pass/fail grade will be assessed based on overall performance in the course.

COURSE INTENDED LEARNING OUTCOMES

By the end of this course, students should be able to:
- Improve the breadth of knowledge of graduate students, and awareness of other departmental research.
- Contribute to departmental seminar series.
- Improve the presentation skills of graduate students.

Other Materials: N/A

COURSE FORMAT AND EXPECTATIONS
The course is organized as follows:

- Each student will be required to prepare and present a 40-minute seminar based upon extensive research work and literature surveys, in areas related to their current research.
- A one-hour seminar slot will be scheduled every week during the term, and 1 graduate student will present his/her research at each seminar (depending on the enrollment).
- The seminars will be held online using Zoom.
- The students should discuss with their supervisors to identify a topic for the presentations.
- Students are assumed to do rehearsal and practice within their research groups (with the help of their supervisors) before the formal presentation.

- The student will give an outstanding seminar which stresses the background of their research topic (and may include some preliminary results if available) at a level that is both comprehensible and entertaining for the entire department.
- The student will provide a 2-minute self-introduction. The introduction must include a) the educational background of the speaker, b) a description of the supervisor and her/his research areas of interest, b) the specific topic being pursued by the speaker, c) the title of the speaker’s talk. d) More details about the speaker’s background and interests and other fun facts about the speaker. e) News from the relevant research group.
The student must use 2 Power point slides for the self-introduction for consistency among speakers.

The speaker must send Nicole Macdonald their seminar information at least one week ahead of their talk.

The speaker is also tasked to contact 3 faculty members (other than the supervisor) who seem relevant to the talk as graders for the talk. These faculty members may not all show up, but the task is to request that they attend the talk.

All other students will grade the introductions and the presentation using an evaluation sheet.

Each student will be required to attend and participate in at least 75% of the course seminars within the course.

Each student will be required to write a ~1/2 page summary and comments/suggestions about each seminar they attend.

Each seminar should not last for more than 40 minutes. It should cover:

i) The background motivation of your research topic.

ii) Examples of the current state of the industry that is relevant to your topic.

iii) The basic science underlying your topic.

iv) The approach you are taking and the justification for your approach in your research.

v) A few of your key research achievements if you already have them.

vi) A brief summary and next steps.

There will be a Q&A after each seminar.

EQUITY, DIVERSITY, AND INCLUSION

Every registered student belongs in this course. Diversity of backgrounds and experiences is expected and welcome. You can expect your Instructor to be respectful of this diversity in all aspects of the course, and the same is expected of you.

The Department of Engineering Physics is committed to creating an environment in which students of all genders, cultures, ethnicities, races, sexual orientations, abilities, and socioeconomic backgrounds have equal access to education and are welcomed and treated fairly. If you have any concerns regarding inclusion in our Department, in particular if you or one of your peers is experiencing harassment or discrimination, you are encouraged to contact the Chair, Associate Undergraduate Chair, Academic Advisor or to contact the Equity and Inclusion Office.

PHYSICAL AND MENTAL HEALTH

For a list of McMaster University’s resources, please refer to the Student Wellness Centre.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

You are expected to exhibit honesty and use ethical behaviour in all aspects of the learning process. Academic credentials you earn are rooted in principles of honesty and academic integrity. It is your responsibility to understand what constitutes academic dishonesty.

Academic dishonesty is to knowingly act or fail to act in a way that results or could result in unearned academic credit or advantage. This behaviour can result in serious consequences, e.g. the grade of zero on an assignment, loss of credit with a notation on the transcript (notation reads: “Grade of F assigned for academic dishonesty”), and/or suspension or expulsion from the university. For information on the various types of academic dishonesty please refer to the Academic Integrity Policy, located at https://secretariat.mcmaster.ca/university-policies-procedures-guidelines/.
The following illustrates only three forms of common academic dishonesty:
1. plagiarism, e.g. the submission of work that is not one’s own or for which other credit has been obtained.
2. improper collaboration in group work.
3. copying or using unauthorized aids in tests and examinations.

COURSES WITH AN ON-LINE ELEMENT

McMaster is committed to an inclusive and respectful community. These principles and expectations extend to online activities including electronic chat groups, video calls and other learning platforms.

In this course, we will be using Avenue to Learn. Students should be aware that, when they access the electronic components of a course using these elements, private information such as first and last names, user names for the McMaster e-mail accounts, and program affiliation may become apparent to all other students in the same course. The available information is dependent on the technology used. Continuation in a course that uses on-line elements will be deemed consent to this disclosure. If you have any questions or concerns about such disclosure, please discuss this with the course instructor.

CONDUCT EXPECTATIONS

As a McMaster student, you have the right to experience, and the responsibility to demonstrate, respectful and dignified interactions within all of our living, learning and working communities. These expectations are described in the Code of Student Rights & Responsibilities (the “Code”). All students share the responsibility of maintaining a positive environment for the academic and personal growth of all McMaster community members, whether in person or online.

It is essential that students be mindful of their interactions online, as the Code remains in effect in virtual learning environments. The Code applies to any interactions that adversely affect, disrupt, or interfere with reasonable participation in University activities. Student disruptions or behaviours that interfere with university functions on online platforms (e.g. use of Avenue 2 Learn, WebEx or Zoom for delivery), will be taken very seriously and will be investigated. Outcomes may include restriction or removal of the involved students’ access to these platforms.

ACADEMIC ACCOMMODATION OF STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

Students with disabilities who require academic accommodation must contact Student Accessibility Services (SAS) at 905-525-9140 ext. 26652 or sas@mcmaster.ca to make arrangements with a Program Coordinator. For further information, consult McMaster University’s Academic Accommodation of Students with Disabilities policy.

COURSE POLICY ON MISSED WORK, EXTENSIONS, AND LATE PENALTIES

It is the students’ responsibility to regularly check the course webpage (Avenue to Learn) for updates and announcements.

SUBMISSION OF REQUEST FOR RELIEF FOR MISSED ACADEMIC WORK

In the event of an absence for medical or other reasons, students should review and follow the Academic Regulation in the Undergraduate Calendar "Requests for Relief for Missed Academic Term Work”.

1. Relief for missed academic work worth less than 25% of the final grade resulting from medical or personal situations lasting up to three calendar days:
• Use the McMaster Student Absence Form (MSAF) on-line self-reporting tool. No further documentation is required.
• Students may submit requests for relief using the MSAF once per term.
• An automated email will be sent to the course instructor, who will determine the appropriate relief. Students must immediately follow up with their instructors. Failure to do so may negate the opportunity for relief.
• The MSAF cannot be used to meet a religious obligation or to celebrate an important religious holiday.
• The MSAF cannot be used for academic work that has already been completed attempted.
• An MSAF applies only to work that is due within the period for which the MSAF applies, i.e. the 3-day period that is specified in the MSAF; however, all work due in that period can be covered by one MSAF.
• The MSAF cannot be used to apply for relief for any final examination or its equivalent. See Petitions for Special Consideration above.

2. For medical or personal situations lasting more than three calendar days, and/or for missed academic work worth 25% or more of the final grade, and/or for any request for relief in a term where the MSAF has been used previously in that term:
   • Students must report to their Faculty Office to discuss their situation and will be required to provide appropriate supporting documentation.
   • If warranted, the Faculty Office will approve the absence, and the instructor will determine appropriate relief.

<tr>
<td>Students requiring academic accommodation based on religious, indigenous or spiritual observances should follow the procedures set out in the RISO policy. Students should submit their request to their Faculty Office normally within 10 working days of the beginning of term in which they anticipate a need for accommodation or to the Registrar’s Office prior to their examinations. Students should also contact their instructors as soon as possible to make alternative arrangements for classes, assignments, and tests.</td>
